

Dear Friends,

It was with great joy that we were able to open the Ross Sanctuary to TBA community members on Friday nights. Physically being together in the sanctuary has been enormously moving. It seems however that we as a community are not yet ready to come back in. This assessment is based upon numerous conversations and in the reality that very few people signed up to physically attend services. We continue to have hundreds of community members joining us online via FaceBook Live and Live Control.

Our goal in this era of COVID is to offer the best spiritual experience possible to the most community members possible. In addition to sound community concerns, simultaneously serving an in-person and digital community unfortunately limits the caliber of services that we can offer.

Accordingly, we will return to virtual services on Friday nights via Facebook Live until it is safe for more of us to come back together. Our energies and intentions in services are focused on facilitating and opening up a prayerful space for spiritual and communal connections, and we feel it best to maintain that focus, for the time being, in an online setting.

Please note that we will continue to hold B'nai Mitzvah in the sanctuary along the same guidelines as we have over these past few months, as long as we are permitted.

We look forward to joining with all of you in song and prayer this coming Shabbat.

L'Shalom,

Rabbi David Z. Vaisberg

Jeffrey A. Klein, Esq., President

TBA BOOK GROUP WITH RABBI VAISBERG VIA ZOOM

Book Selections December 2020 & January 2021
Wednesdays, 7:30 PM with Rabbi Vaisberg, via Zoom

December 9 – Homesick by Eshkol Nevo

Summary: This heart-warming, charming and clever first novel dips into the lives of each of the inhabitants of a village in Israel. We meet Noa and Amir, a student couple, who have decided to move in together in a village in the hills, midway between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv, where they each work. There is Yotam, the younger brother left behind, forgotten by his parents, who are grieving for their eldest son who was killed in Lebanon; who turns to Amir for support family. Another character is Saddiq, who watches the house from which his family was driven by the Jews when he was a boy, and to which his mother still has a rusty key. Despite friendships that develop and lives that become entwined, tensions among this melting pot of characters seem to be rising to the surface. This enchanting and irresistible novel offers us windows into the characters' lives. Homesick is a beautiful and moving story about history, love, family and the true meaning of home.

Author: Eshkol Nevo was born in Jerusalem in 1971. He studied copywriting at the Tirza Granot School and psychology at Tel Aviv University. Today, Nevo owns and co-manages the largest private creative writing school in Israel and is considered the “godfather” of many upcoming young Israeli writers. He has published novels, short stories and nonfiction. His novels have all been top bestsellers.

January 13 – Seven Good Years by Etgar Keret

Summary: The seven years between the birth of Etgar Keret’s son and the death of his father were good years, though still full of reasons to worry. Lev is born in the midst of a terrorist attack. Etgar’s father gets cancer. The threat of constant war looms over their home and permeates daily life. What emerges is a series of sublimely absurd ruminations on everything from Etgar’s three-year-old son’s impending military service to the terrorist mind-set behind Angry Birds. Etgar’s siblings, all very different people who have chosen radically divergent paths in life, come together after his father’s shivah to experience the grief and love that tie a family together forever. This wise, witty memoir—Etgar’s first non-fiction book, and told in his inimitable style—is full of wonder and life and love, poignant insights, and irrepressible humor.

Author: Etgar Keret is an Israeli writer known for his short stories, graphic novels, and scriptwriting for film and television. His books had been published in more than thirty languages. Keret has received the Prime Minister’s award for literature, as well as the Ministry of Culture’s Cinema Prize and many other awards.

Talmud with Max Edwards, Rabbinical Assistant

Moses in Midrash: Talmudic Tales of a Prophet Like None Other

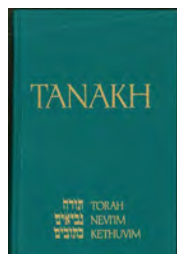

Not to be outdone by the towering and inspiring portrayal of Moses in the Torah, the rabbis in the early rabbinic period take his character to far off and captivating places that our biblical source text wouldn't believe. Join us for an in-depth, extended look at Moses through the eyes of our rabbinic sages. In this class, we'll spend time reacquainting ourselves with the biblical Moses, and with these tools, explore the rabbinic expansions of his character.

Ever wonder what life was like growing up in Pharaoh's court? What really happened during the episode of the golden calf? Did Moses ever time travel? (Yes, of course.) No prior knowledge of Torah or Hebrew required – all are welcome to join as we rediscover a prophet like none other.

Thursdays, 11:00 AM-12:15 PM via Zoom

The Hebrew Bible, Line by Line with Rabbi Vaisberg and Max Edwards

The Hebrew Bible is more than just our sacred text— it is the foundational document of Western Civilization and a source of meaning for so many. We will explore and discover the Hebrew Bible in its entirety, starting from the first line of Genesis and working our way, for as long as we need to, until the end of 2 Chronicles. We will use parallel English and Hebrew texts and bring in commentaries ancient and contemporary to enhance our explorations. All are welcome.

Mondays at 9:30 AM, via Zoom

Raising Social Consciousness Through Film: A Cinema Series Addressing Moral Issues

sponsored by the Social Action Committee

Watch the films on your own—all available on Netflix— before the discussion date, and then every two weeks, we will gather via Zoom to discuss the film.

“Rabbi Tarfon used to say: It is not your duty to finish the work, but neither are you free to neglect it.”— Pirkei Avot 2:16

Film can exert a powerful influence on how we see the world and the way we consider problems facing society. This fall, the Social Action Committee is continuing the popular series, Raising Social Consciousness Through Film. We will watch five films on our own and then discuss the problems they highlight and how they have affected our world view. The list of films, descriptions, and subsequent Zoom discussion dates can be found below. We hope you join us for these spirited and important conversations!

THE IVORY GAME

Monday, December 21, 2020, 7:30 PM, via Zoom

A 2016 American documentary film, directed by Kief Davidson and Richard Ladkani, The Ivory Game examines the ivory trade, which has become a global concern, pitting governments and environmental preservationists against poachers and Chinese ivory merchants. Ivory is a prized status symbol for middle-class Chinese, and poachers in pursuit of white gold are slaughtering African elephants in record numbers. The filmmakers went under cover for 16 months, infiltrating and documenting the deep-rooted corruption at the heart of the global ivory trafficking crisis. (1 hour, 52 minutes)
